boring stuff

Now that we are done with the obligatory bit, here is the bit where I prattle on about seemingly unrelated information. Though I'm not formally trained in it, I enjoy writing copy, especially for advertisements. My software education spans across 2D and 3D, yet I am most comfortable with Adobe Illustrator, Photoshop and InDesign. I have an unceasing interest in astronomy and archaeology, and a questionable attraction towards baking cake. I also tend to hoard on colourful stationery, taking utmost care to not use any of it, ever.
